This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

+ Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
+ Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
+ Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
+ Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

THE FORTY-FOURTH REPORT

OF

THE DEPUTY KEEPER OF THE PUBLIC RECORDS.

TO THE QUEEN'S MOST EXCELLENT MAJESTY.

MAY IT PLEASE YOUR MAJESTY,

I RESPECTFULLY beg leave to submit to Your Majesty my Annual Report of the proceedings in the Public Record Office for the year 1882: pursuant to the Acts 1 & 2 Vict. c. 94., § 17, and 40 & 41 Vict. c. 55.

Although not occurring during the period to which this Report strictly belongs, it is proper that I should here notice that, since the presentation of my last Report to Your Majesty, this Department of the Public Service has sustained a great loss in the lamented death, on the 21st of March 1883, of Sir George Jessel, who filled the office of Master of the Rolls and Keeper of Your Majesty's Public Records of England for nearly eight years. Through his exertions, the entire staff of the Public Record Office is indebted for many of the advantages it now possesses, and the permanent benefits and improvements conferred on this Department, chiefly owing to the assiduous and zealous representations made to the Lords of Your Majesty's Treasury by Sir George Jessel, cannot be too highly estimated, and will not easily be forgotten; these benefits have been gratefully acknowledged by the Officers of the Establishment, but are necessarily felt and appreciated by all those who have occasion to consult the Records of this Kingdom, and by the legal profession and historians in general. The series of Historical publications so eminently continued under the direction of the late Master of the Rolls, and which I am authorised to say will be advanced with equal earnestness and discernment under the direction of Sir William Baliol Brett, Lord Justice of Appeal, and present Master of the Rolls, have contributed largely, not only towards the history of this Kingdom and the Colonies, but, in scarcely a less degree, to the elucidation of the history of Europe generally.

Ro 4629. Wt. 12231.

I. FAC-SIMILES OF NATIONAL MANUSCRIPTS, &c., BY PROCESS OF PHOTOZINCOGRAPHY, &c.

These operations have been continued during 1882, at the Ordnance Survey Office, Southampton, under the superintendence of Mr. William Basevi Sanders, an Assistant Keeper of Records, who is stationed there; further details will be found in Mr. Sanders' Report for that year, submitted to Your Majesty in the Appendix to this Report (No. 6). Mr. Sanders has also continued his Calendar and Index to the Close Rolls, Edw. I.

II. CALENDARS AND TRANSCRIPTS.

The progress in the Calendars in 1882 is also mentioned in § VII., and in Appendix No. 8.

A further portion of the Calendar of the Patent Rolls in this Office is submitted to Your Majesty (Appendix No. 1), being for the third year of Edward I., calendared by Mr. Frank Scott Haydon, the Senior Clerk in the Department. An introduction to the Calendar in this Report points out the entries chiefly worthy of notice.

In the Appendix (No. 2) will be found a Calendar of Inquisitions post mortem, &c., among the Cursitor's Records of the County of Durham, which are more particularly described in the Introduction to the Calendar. Mr. Gustavus Frederick Handcock, a Junior Clerk in this Office, prepared the Calendar; and has in progress a further Calendar of Durham Inquisitions.

In Appendix No. 3 is commenced a Calendar of the French Rolls of Henry V., being an addition to the Calendar of Norman Rolls in the Appendices to the Forty-first and Forty-second Reports. The Calendar is compiled by Mr. Alexander Charles Ewald, a Senior Clerk in the Public Record Office, who also prepared the above-mentioned Calendar of the Norman Rolls. The present Calendar of the French Rolls will serve as a supplement to the Calendar of the Norman Rolls. A concise account of the materials in the Calendar is given in the Introduction. A further portion will be appended to a succeeding Report of the Deputy Keeper.

The Volumes of Calendars published in 1882 were:—

(1.) The Seventeenth Volume of the Calendar of Domestic State Papers of the reign of Charles I. (from 1 September 1640 to 31 May 1641), edited by Mr. William Douglas Hamilton, a Senior Clerk in the Public Record Office. The period of this Volume comprises the first seven months of the Long Parliament, commencing with the news of the retreat of the English forces, and the entrance of the Scottish army under Leslie into Newcastle. The Volume also contains a tabulated account of the Entry Book of Minutes of Petitions and other Proceedings in the Court of Wards from October 1640 to May 1641. There are also a few examples of Proceedings in the Court of Star Chamber in this Volume.

(2.) The Eighth Volume of the Calendar of Domestic State Papers during the Commonwealth, edited by Mrs. Everett Green, extending from 1 November 1655 to 30 June 1656. The Papers calendared in this Volume comprise, among other subjects, the correspondence of Thomas Ross, or Rowe, partly in cypher, to which a key is given in the Preface; other letters relate to the proposal of an hereditary Protectorate, discussed and approved; to the plots of the Royalists, and the discontent in the English fleet; to the treatment of the Jews as to free admission to trade in England; to the foundation of a college in the city of Durham; to the seizure of books, on moral or political grounds, &c.

(3.) The Sixth Volume of the Calendar of Letters and Papers, Foreign and Domestic, of the reign of Henry VIII., for the year 1553, edited by Mr. James Gairdner, Assistant Keeper of the Public Records. This is the second volume of the reign of Henry VIII. which has been edited (since the death of the Rev. J. S. Brewer) by Mr. Gairdner, with the help of Mr. Charles Joice Martin, a Senior Clerk in this Office, who has assisted in the progress of the work during 19 years. The Volume principally contains Papers relating to the Proceedings, calendared in the previous volume, as to the King's Divorce from Katharine of Arragon, and his marriage with Anne Boleyn; their subsequent quarrels; the proceedings at Rome and France; the birth of the Princess Elizabeth. There are also Papers relating to Elizabeth Barton, the Nun of Kent; the French mediation between England and Scotland; the change in the Government of Calais; to Sir Thomas More, Latimer, Tyndale, the Princess Mary, &c.

In the Forty-third Report (§ IV.) it is stated that Mr. Rawdon Brown, the editor of the Venetian Calendar of State Papers, had met with a severe accident in 1881, which delayed the completion and publication of the Third Part of Vol. VI. of the Venetian Calendar edited by him, and that part of the Volume was still unpublished at the close of 1882. The circumstances are more particularly alluded to in Mr. Brown's Report to 31 December 1882 (Appendix No. 5). He has also transmitted to the Department five Volumes of Transcripts of Despatches in the Archives of Venice, making a total of 129 Volumes of Transcripts, &c., transmitted.

The Fifth Volume of the Calendar of Documents relating to Ireland, preserved in the Public Record Office, London, commencing with 1302, has been continued by Mr. H. S. Sweetman, and will probably extend to the end of the reign of Edward I. The Volume has not proceeded so rapidly as could be wished, owing to Mr. Sweetman's impaired sight.

The second part of the Fourth Volume of the Calendar of Spanish Papers, from 1531 to 1533, was in the printers' hands at the end of 1882, and was expected to be published early in 1883. Vol. V., Part I., will then be sent to the printers, commencing with the year 1534.

Of the Calendar of State Papers printed for sale, three Volumes were published in 1882, making a total of 169 Volumes published; 847 copies of the series were sold in 1882, making the total number of Volumes sold amount to 38,423. The state of the Calendars at the end of 1882 will be found in the Appendix (No. 8).

Other operations in regard to Foreign Documents will be found in § IV.

III. CHRONICLES AND MEMORIALS OF GREAT BRITAIN AND IRELAND DURING THE MIDDLE AGES.

Seven additional Volumes of this series were published in 1882, making a total of 173 Volumes already published; 1,436 Volumes were sold in that year, making a total of 38,952 Volumes sold. A list of those works published in 1882, and of those in progress at the end of 1882, is given in the Appendix (No. 9).

IV. RESEARCHES, &c., IN FOREIGN DOCUMENTS.

In addition to the operations previously mentioned on the Venetian and Spanish Documents, the following researches, &c., have taken place, during 1882, on Documents in Rome, Sweden (2), and Paris.

Rome.—Mr. William Henry Bliss has continued his researches in the Libraries and Secret Archives of Rome, and forwarded 18 bundles of valuable Transcripts, which have been consulted by searchers in this Office. He has also made a Report of his proceedings at Rome for 1882, which is annexed to this Report (Appendix No. 7).

Stockholm.—Mr. Bliss has also, with the approval of the Lords Commissioners of Your Majesty's Treasury, been employed to make a complete examination and report on the collection of State Papers connected with English and Scottish affairs preserved among the Public Archives at Stockholm, during the period for which the Vatican Library was closed. His First Report on Papers relating to the History of England is annexed to the Forty-third Report (Appendix II., No. 2). Mr. Bliss repeated his visit to Stockholm in 1882. The following is an extract from his Report to the Master of the Rolls:—

"In continuation of the work begun here last year in the Royal State Archives, I have examined the letters and other papers sent by the Swedish envoys to England to their government during the early part of the eighteenth century.

"The communications are more full and more frequent at this period than in the previous century; and with the exception of the short break caused by the intrigue, and consequent imprisonment, of Gyllenborg in 1717–18, diplomatic intercourse between the two countries was uninterrupted.

"In these two years also communications were kept up by a correspondent living in London, whose letters passed through Paris; and the despatches written by the Swedish envoys at the Hague and elsewhere present a continuous report of affairs in England, and of her relations with continental States.

"As a rule, the envoys wrote three series of letters; one to the King of Sweden, another to the 'Causli Collegium'—a Foreign Office—and a third to 'Causli Presidenten,' or the Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs. These last are of a more important character than the others, and frequently contain matter of a less public kind than do those written to the King or to the Foreign Office.

"Besides these series of letters, much may be gleaned from the general, and often confidential, correspondence kept up by the envoy with other envoys at neighbouring courts or seats of Government, and also with his personal friends.

"The letters addressed to the envoy by the King and by the Foreign Office are for the most part of a formal and purely official character, nor is there much of a confidential nature to be found in the letters of the Secretary of State, whose more private communications, it may be, were not preserved by the envoy, or were sent unwritten by special messenger.

"In the report made by me last year, information was sent of the contents of the Swedish Royal State Archives that relate to England down to the end of 1705.

Stockholm, Skokloster, Upsala, &c.—The Rev. William Dunn Macray, M.A., Rector of Ducklington, Oxfordshire, having been (as stated in the Forty-third Report (§ V.)) recommended to the Lords Commissioners of Your Majesty's Treasury, to proceed to Sweden and to report on the State Papers preserved in the Castle of Skokloster, their Lordships approved of the inquiry and Mr. Macray arrived at Stockholm for that purpose on 11 August 1881. Circumstances, however, prevented a full report on the Documents at Skokloster, and he therefore has reported on Documents preserved in the Royal Library, Stockholm, in the Upsala Library, &c., all which Reports were annexed to the Third Report (App. II., No. 1).

Mr. Macray has since been appointed to make a further investigation in Sweden in the course of the summer of 1883.

Paris.—M. Armand Baschet continues his valuable researches in the Public Libraries and Archives of Paris for Documents illustrating British History, and makes annual Reports thereon. A collection of Transcripts was received from M. Baschet at the end of the year 1882, of which a list is annexed to this Report (App. No. 6).

V. CANADIAN ARCHIVES.

In the Forty-third Report (§ VI.), and in the Appendix thereto (App. II., No. 3), is submitted to Your Majesty some particulars relating to the Archives of Canada, with a statement of the Proceedings in 1881 of Mr. Douglas Brymner, Archivist of the Dominion of Canada, who was in Great Britain in that year for the purpose of reporting upon the National Records.

Mr. Douglas Brymner has transmitted to this Office copies also of his Annual Report on the Canadian Archives for 1882. In it he remarks that so far as regards the history of British North America, every document relating thereto should be found in the Archivist's Office of Canada. "The papers relating to "the Colonies are not the only sources from which to draw in "the Public Record Office (of London). There are many in the "Domestic Series, amongst the Treasury documents, and in those "relating to Foreign Affairs. These would all require to be "examined carefully; the search necessarily would occupy a "considerable time and most conscientious labour, which, it is "almost unnecessary to say, would be facilitated in every possible "way by the officers of the State Departments and of the Public "Record Office. Without a thorough report as to the documents, "it will be difficult, if not impossible, to arrive at a proper de-"termination on the subject." Mr. Brymner adds:—"I would, "therefore, suggest that a complete investigation be made in the "Public Record Office and the State Departments in London, to "be accompanied or followed by a similar investigation in Paris, "and that, concurrently with the searches, competent persons "should be employed to make copies of such documents as it "shall be deemed advisable to obtain for deposit amongst the "Archives of Canada."

VI. THE ACT 40 & 41 VICT. c. 55.

The Rules, &c., made by the Master of the Rolls, pursuant to the above Act, so far as they relate to the Chancery Masters' Documents in his charge and superintendence, were laid before Your Majesty in my Fortieth Report (§§ I. and VI., Appendix Nos. 10 and 11). Further particulars relating to these Documents will be found in the Forty-first Report (§ IV.), in the Forty-second Report (§ IV.), in the Forty-third Report (§§ VII. and VIII.), and in this Report.

The inquiry into the other portion of the above-mentioned Act, relating to the disposal of Valueless Documents in the Public Record Office, has been continued under the direction of a Committee appointed for that purpose. The Committee made their First Report to the Master of the Rolls on 14 December 1881; and the following Rules for the Disposal of Valueless Documents were made by the late Master of the Rolls on 28 January 1882 and duly approved by the Commissioners of the Treasury and the Lord High Chancellor of Great Britain :—

"RULES for the Disposal of VALUELESS DOCUMENTS.

"I, the Right Honourable Sir George Jessel, Master of the Rolls, in exercise of the power conferred upon me by the first section of the Public Record Office Act, 1877, do hereby make the Rules following :—

"1. THE documents of the various courts of law and departments of State, or otherwise within the meaning of the Act, shall be inspected by officers of the Public Record Office specially appointed for the purpose by the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury upon the recommendation of the Master of the Rolls, to retain office during his pleasure.

"2. The Inspecting Officers are to be not less than three in number. One shall be the deputy keeper for the time being, one shall be an assistant keeper; one shall (whatever his rank in the office) be a barrister of not less than seven years' standing.

"3. When the documents of any Government department are under consideration, the head of that department shall nominate some officer specially conversant with the records of his department to act with the officers above named, subject to the approval of the Master of the Rolls.

"4. The first officers thus appointed are:—

William Hardy, Esq., Fellow of the Society of Antiquaries, Deputy Keeper of the Public Records.

Joseph Redington, Esq., Assistant Keeper of the Public Records.

Luke Owen Pike, Esq., Master of Arts, a Senior Clerk in the Public Record Office, Barrister-at-Law.

"5. The officers thus appointed may commence their duties by the inspection of the documents of Her Majesty's Superior Courts of Common Law.

"6. They are to keep minutes of their proceedings for the information, if necessary, of the Master of the Rolls and the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, and to mention therein every document or class of documents which they may examine.

"7. They are to prepare, for consideration by the Master of the Rolls, a schedule 'of the documents for the time being proposed to be disposed of,' which shall contain not only a list, but also 'such particulars as to the character and contents' of the same, 'as may be calculated to enable the Houses of Parliament to judge of the expediency of disposing of such documents in the proposed manner.'

"8. They are to present to the Master of the Rolls one such schedule at least in every year; and they are to exercise all possible diligence with the object of relieving the Public Record Office from the encumbrance of useless matter.

"9. They are to take every precaution against the inclusion in the schedules of any documents which can reasonably be considered of legal, historical, genealogical, or antiquarian use or interest, or which give any important information not to be obtained elsewhere.

"10. When the Master of the Rolls has signified his approval of the schedules they will be laid before the two Houses of Parliament, as provided by the Act.

"11. After these Rules have lain 60 days before both Houses of Parliament, and after Her Majesty has declared Her approbation of them by Order in Council, the Inspecting Officers are to dispose (in the manner provided by the next Rule) of all documents of which any schedule, prepared in accordance with these Rules and with the Act, has been submitted to both Houses of Parliament for a period of four weeks.

"12. The whole of the documents finally pronounced to be of insufficient value for preservation in the Public Record Office are to be effectually destroyed. The Inspecting Officers are to concert such measures as may be necessary for the due execution of this Rule with the Controller of Her Majesty's Stationery Office.

"(Signed) G. JESSEL, M.R.
28th January 1882.

"Approved. (Signed) SELBORNE, C.
8th February 1882.

"The Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury approve of these Rules.

"(Signed) JOHN HOLMS.
"16th February 1882. CHAS. C. COTES."

The above Rules were submitted to both Houses of Parliament for 60 days, and received Your Majesty's approbation by Order in Council dated 25 July 1882.

Schedule No. I. of Valueless Documents of the Court of Queen's Bench (Plea side), prepared under the above Rules, having been read and approved by the late Master of the Rolls, was also laid before both Houses of Parliament for a period of four weeks.

The destruction of the valueless documents in Schedule No. 1 having been thus legally sanctioned, the whole of the documents which are therein recommended to be destroyed (except a very small portion not yet weeded) were withdrawn from those to be preserved, and were handed over to the Controller of Your Majesty's Stationery Office, as provided in Rule 12, and they were, under his supervision, destroyed. The amount of valueless documents, of which the Public Record Office had thus been relieved on the 11th of December last, was 29 tons 13¾ cwts.

Schedule No. 2, which includes the remainder of the valueless documents of the Court of Queen's Bench (Plea side), prepared under the same Rules, was submitted to the late Master of the Rolls, and was by him read and approved. Further proceedings on this Schedule will be noticed in the Deputy Keeper's Report for 1883.

The following Additional Rules for the destruction of valueless documents in Your Majesty's Treasury were made by the late Master of the Rolls on 10 August 1882:—

"I, the Right Honourable Sir George Jessel, Master of the Rolls, in exercise of the power conferred upon me by the first section of the Public Record Office Act, 1877, do hereby add to the rules made by me on the 28th day of January 1882, whereof Her Majesty has declared Her approbation by Order in Council dated the 25th day of July 1882, the rules following:—

"(1.) A schedule or schedules of documents not removed to the Public Record Office, but remaining in the Office of Her Majesty's Treasury, may be prepared by direction of the Commissioners thereof, and after having been approved by the Master of the Rolls, be laid before both Houses of Parliament in the manner and for the purposes mentioned in the first section of the Public Record Office Act, 1877.

"(2.) All documents in the Office of Her Majesty's Treasury (not being of more ancient date than the year 1715) which are or shall be of the classes included in any such schedule or schedules as aforesaid, duly submitted to both Houses of Parliament for a period of not less than four weeks, may, at the end of not less than 25 years from the date of such documents be from time to time destroyed in such manner as may be agreed between the Commissioners of the Treasury and the Controller of Her Majesty's Stationery Office.

"(3.) The rules numbered 1 and 2 in these present rules shall not, nor shall either of them, extend or be applied to any documents which have been or which shall hereafter be removed to the Public Record Office.

"(4.) The Rules for the disposal of Valueless Documents of which Her Majesty has declared Her approbation by Order in Council, dated the 25th day of July 1882, shall (except Rules 5 and 8) extend and be applied to the documents which have been or which shall hereafter be removed to the Public Record Office from the Treasury.

(Signed) "G. JESSEL, M.R.,
"10 August 1882.

"The Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury approve of these Rules.

"R. W. DUFF."

"11 August 1882."

These Additional Rules were also submitted to both Houses of Parliament for 60 days, and received Your Majesty's approbation by Order in Council dated 30 November 1882.

A Schedule of Valueless Documents was prepared in the Treasury, and was (after examination by the Inspecting Officers, joined with Mr. Durrant of that Department) submitted to both Houses of Parliament in pursuance of the above Rules.

VII. FEES: GOVERNMENT AND OTHER BUSINESS, &c.

The amount of Business in the Search Office, and of Fees received, in 1882, is as follows:—

1151 Copies - - -	615	15	0
209 Attendances - -	125	11	0

The total amount of Fees received, and paid to the account of the Consolidated Fund, from 1840, is 31,240*l.* 5*s.* 9*d.*

The number of registered applications for Records in the Search Office by the Public, in 1882, was 37,836, each application being on an average for more than ten documents. This number does not include the daily inquiries for information, which are answered and disposed of. 32,809 membranes and leaves were stamped before their production to searchers; this regulation cannot be dispensed with. These are in addition to 17,334 membranes and leaves already stamped, which were reproduced, making a total of 53,807 membranes and leaves consulted by searchers in 1882.

The amount of work performed specially for Government Departments during 1882 is as follows :—

NUMBER of SEARCHES, INSPECTIONS, ISSUES, and RETURNS of GOVERNMENT PAPERS, for GOVERNMENT DEPARTMENTS, in 1882.

Departments.	Number of Searches or Applications.	Number of Inspections, Issues, Returns, &c.
Treasury - - - - - -	107	340
Home Office - - - - -	702	702
Foreign Office - - - - -	704	153
Colonial Office - - - - -	1,051	2,084
War Office - - - - -	654	6,672
Admiralty (Whitehall) - - - -	224	2,630
„ (Registry) - - - -	1	13
Lord Chamberlain's Office - - -	6	48
Paymaster General's Office - - -	2	3
Exchequer and Audit Department - -	6	24
Patent Office - - - - -	57	57
Total - - - -	3,514	12,726

The preceding table does not, however, give an adequate idea of the business transacted in the Public Record Office for Government Departments, inasmuch as searches for, and references to, the Documents wanted, often occupy many days; and long copies of Documents are frequently made for those Departments.

24,136 Books and Papers have been stamped before transmission to Government Departments. These are not included in the number stamped for searchers as above mentioned.

The examination into the Documents belonging to the late Masters of the Court of Chancery has been continued as mentioned in former Reports. The new Rules and Regulations, pursuant to the Act 40 & 41 Vict. c. 55., are given in the Fortieth Report (§ I., and Appendix Nos. 10 and 11). On 14 October 1879 the Master of the Rolls, pursuant to the Act 23 & 24 Vict. c. 149. s. 9., appointed Mr. William John Hardy to have the care of these Documents. As mentioned in the 43rd Report (§§ viii.), they were removed from Southampton Buildings to seven houses in the Rolls Yard, forming a portion of the Public Record Office, in November and December 1881. 21 applications were made to inspect those Documents in 1882; one delivery of papers has been made to claimants; 2 Office copies have been made, and 1*l.* 1*s.* received for fees. Some Documents are being sorted, indexed, &c.

The assistance afforded by the Record Officers to the Historical Manuscripts Commission has been continued (Fortieth Report, § VI.); some repairs of Documents for the Commission have also been executed, and some copies made.

In the Fortieth Report (§ VI.) it is stated that Returns were in progress, for the Houses of Lords and Commons, of the names of Members returned to serve in Parliament. These have been continued, and an Index to them has been in compilation during the year, but is not completed.

VIII. TRANSFERS AND REMOVALS.

APPENDIX

FORTY-FOURTH ANNUAL REPORT OF THE DEPUTY KEEPER OF THE PUBLIC RECORDS.

No. 1.—Calendar of Patent Rolls; 3 Edward I.—Continued from 43rd Report, App. I., No. 4.

INTRODUCTION.

The Patent Roll, 3 Edward I., the Calendar of which is contained in the following pages, exhibits few points which call for special remark. Among many other entries worthy of notice, but which the smallness of the space at my command does not permit me to enlarge upon, may be mentioned :—The licence (p. 7) to the Queen-Mother to dispose of all her goods and chattels by will. As a general rule a testator was unable to deal with more than a third of his personalty in his will, except in special cases (Blackstone, ii.) ; the entry (p. 76) relating to the hermitage near Cripplegate, which adds one more to the numerous examples of unscrupulousness in regard to the distinction between meum and tuum so prevalent among our ancestors in all classes; the entry (p. 80) describing the case of Adam de Dalston, which displays in a rather remarkable manner the "influence of property" on the course of justice; the curious entry (p. 264) relating to the poaching in Thorneye-Marsh and Thorneye-Wood, which appears to have been carried to such an extent as to entirely spoil the sport of the King and his magnates; and the entry (p. 276) touching the case of Agnes de Valence, widow of Maurice Fitz-Gerald. The proclamation and publication in the county of Chester and throughout England of the Statute of Westminster the First (described as "quasdam provisiones et quedam statuta") are ordered in the mandate addressed to the Justiciar of Chester and the concurrent mandates to each of the Sheriffs of England (p. 247). The Parliament was summoned for the morrow of the close of Easter (22nd April); and the mandates are dated on the 28th of May. The Statute is stated on the roll to have been enacted "de com-" muni consilio Prelatorum et magnatum. . . . Regni," but in the preamble of the Statute itself (Statutes of the Realm, i. 26.) "par son conseil e par le assentement " des erceveskes, eveskes, abbes, priurs, contes, barons, et la cõmunaute de la tere " ileokes somons." There is, however, no other evidence of the summons, and no evidence at all of the attendance, of the "communaute de la tere" at the Easter Parliament 3 Edward I. The phrases "convocatis magnatibus totius regni tam de " clericis quam de laicis," "facta convocatione omnium magnatum regni," and the like, employed by contemporary annalists appear indeed to exclude the summons of the commonalty or community of the realm. There is a mention in the first entry on p. 170 of the detention of the King by an imposthume ("apostemate") when on his way to Shrewsbury to receive the homage of Llewelyn, Prince of Wales. It appears to have arisen from the wounds which had been inflicted on Edward in the Holy Land by an assassin (Wikes. p. 263.) A few discrepancies between the précis given in the following Calendar and the corresponding entries in the "Calendar of Documents relating to Ireland" have been mentioned in the foot-notes to pp. 17, 72, 88, 152, 173, 254, and 277.

I have introduced cross-references in some cases, from the name of a place in the roll to the modern equivalent given in the Calendar, for the convenience of those who may desire to refer from the roll to the Calendar instead of from the Calendar to the roll.

I have again to acknowledge the assistance of Mr. Harley Rodney.

No. 2.—Durham Records: Cursitor's Records: Inquisitions post mortem, &c.

DURHAM, CURSITOR'S RECORDS: INQUISITIONS POST MORTEM, &c.

The original Inquisitions post mortem, with some few others taken under writs of divers kinds, belonging to the Cursitor's series of the Durham Records are those referred to in the Appendix to the Thirtieth Report of the Deputy Keeper under the numbers 164 to 190 inclusive, with the exception of numbers 180 and 185, which consist of inquisitions taken under writs of extendi facias, &c. The number of persons referred to in the following calendar is 1,522, as many of the returns allude to several persons, especially in the case of those made by the escheator "virtute officii," when several inquisitions were frequently included in one return, the date and names of the jurors being prefixed to the first only, the others commencing with the words "Item dicunt."

These inquisitions, with the exception of those contained in one portfolio, are on parchment. The inquisitions contained in that portfolio (number 178) are all on paper, some of them being rough drafts of original returns made during the reign of Elizabeth, and others merely copies of inquisitions taken at earlier dates. With this portfolio the bundle numbered 462 of the Registrar's series of the Durham Records has been incorporated, the inquisitions contained in it evidently belonging to this series, and most of them being indorsed "copia." The incorporated documents bear the numbers 41 to 60 inclusive.

In respect of several of the earlier inquisitions, the writs only are extant, but the contents of the returns to such writs are generally supplied by the Registers or Abstracts of Inquisitions contained in those books, which bear the numbers 2, 3, 4, 5, and 6 of the Cursitors' series of Records. Of these volumes four contain abstracts or rather copies (the names of the jurors alone being omitted) of inquisitions taken at various dates; and in all cases hereafter in which there are both the original inquisition and the abstract extant, the reference to the latter is given as "Reg. Vol. , fo. ". In some cases there are abstracts contained in these Registers (especially in Number II. of the series, which volume refers principally to inquisitions precedent to the date of the inquisitions treated of in this calendar), of which the originals are not now in existence, while on the other hand there are a few inquisitions (generally de probatione etatis) of which apparently no abstracts had been made. The abstracts contained in Register Number II. date from the pontificate of Bishop Beaumont to the fourth year of that of Robert Nevill; those in Number III. were made from inquisitions taken when Thomas Ruthall was Bishop; one, however, being an exception, viz., that upon Ralph Earl of Westmorland, dated 3 Edward VI. The contents of Number IV. embrace the pontificates of Lawrence Bothe and William Dudley, whilst Number VI. contains the abstracts (in several instances in duplicate) of inquisitions taken during the earlier years of the reign of Elizabeth. Number V. differs very materially from the preceding four Registers; the abstracts therein contained having been arranged as an Index locorum, each entry referring only to so much of the inquisition as relates to that place under which the abstract is entered. It shows what inquisitions had been held on lands in any particular place, by whom such lands were held, with the quantity and tenure of the same. It also gives references either to the number borne by the original inquisition, or to the folio of the Register upon which the more complete abstract has been entered. As an index it is, however, incomplete, concluding with entries made under the letter S. Its references extend from the earliest date mentioned in Register Number II. to the reign of James I., and where reference is made to any inquisition during the reign of Elizabeth there is frequently a marginal note that such inquisition is on paper.

At some period prior to the compiling of this index, but subsequent to the date at which they were taken, the inquisitions were numbered. In the present arrangement these numbers have, as far as possible, been preserved, so that this volume may still serve as an index, the name of the Bishop for the earlier dates giving the clue to the portfolio or Register which contains the required inquisition; while for the later ones a comparison of the regnal year (together with the name of the deceased) mentioned in the margin of the abstract with the regnal years in the calendar will show if such inquisition is now extant.

All lands mentioned in the following calendar may be assumed to have been held of the Bishop when there is no statement to the contrary. The surname of the heir

* A Calendar of these earlier Inquisitions is in preparation, which will be annexed to a future Report.

No. 2.—Durham Records: Cursitor's Records, &c.—continued.

(in addition to the Christian name) is given in all cases in which it differs from that of the subject of the inquisition. When an inquisition was taken under a writ of "mandamus," the age of the heir is frequently his (or her) age at the date of the deceased's death, and consequently younger than if corrected to the date of such inquisition. The different writs under which the various inquisitions were taken are specified, the inquisitions taken by the writ "de diem clausit extremum" being briefly described as Inq. p.m.

Prior to and including the pontificate of Cuthbert Tunstall, dates were recorded by the years of the pontificates of the Bishops, but during the later years of his life the regnal years were also employed for that purpose. In this calendar the numbers in the margin stand for the year of the pontificate of the several Bishops up to and including the pontificate of Cuthbert Tunstall, subsequently to his time such numbers specify the regnal years of the Sovereign.

The inquisitions held during the pontificates of the Bishops of Durham are arranged as follows:—

Parva having been conveyed by Ralph Bowes senior to Thomas Pudsey and Stephen Elys, they by deed dated 20 September 1509 settled the same upon Ralph Bowes junior and Elizabeth his wife, still surviving, and the heirs of their bodies, remainder to the right heirs of the said Ralph Bowes junior. The manors and vills of Hilton, Elton and Clowcroft Ralph Bowes senior had conveyed (as appears by a deed dated 1 March 1511–12) to George Fitzhugh, Ralph Eure, and others to be applied in accordance with his last will (dated 4 March 1511–12), viz., to his use for life and after his decease that his son Robert should have for life, remainder to the right heirs of the said Ralph, land to the annual value of ten pounds; and also his son Richard should have for his life land to the annual value of ten pounds, provided that if upon the death of William Aske land to the annual value of forty marks should thereby fall in to Richard (by reason of a covenant of marriage between the said Ralph Bowes and William Aske), then the bequest to him should be void. By deed dated 1 September 1512 Ralph Bowes, in this inquisition named, conveyed his manors of Hamylden, Barnes, Palyon, Hepton on the Hill, Plawsworth, Byresyde, Medomesley, Egilston, Middilton in Teasdale, Staynton and tenements in Stretlam to William Bulmer and others to hold to the use of him and his heirs and to carry out his will, dated 1 September 1512, viz., an annual sum, for 3 years, of seven marks to be devoted to having prayers said for his soul; an annual payment of 50 marks to be made to the bishop until the sum of 270 marks had been paid off; a sum of 10 marks a year for 10 years to be expended on keeping in repair his manors of Stretlam, Barnes, Dalden and Newton; a sum of 20*l.* to be paid to his mother, with a further sum of 14*l.* for certain goods belonging to his brother Robert which he had held; and should it appear that any of his lands were entailed to heirs male that in such case the co-feoffees should hold the same to their use. By a codicil dated 18 October 1516 he further willed that the payment for prayers for his soul should extend over 7 years; that in addition to paying his debt to the bishop all his other debts should be paid out of his lands and tenements; 5*l.* a year to be paid to his brother Robert for life and a similar payment of 5 marks to his brother Richard; 1,200 marks for the marriages of his daughters. Elizabeth Bowes his widow to have his manor of Barnes and Pavilyon for 20*l.* towards so much of her dower from his lands as that sum should extend to; his mother Margery Bowes and his wife Elizabeth, as his executrices, to have the management of all his property.

No. 3.—French Rolls—Henry V.

The French Rolls of Henry V. constitute a valuable addition to the Norman Rolls of the same reign already calendared (see the Forty-first and Forty-second Reports of the Deputy Keeper of the Public Records). Much information omitted in the Norman Rolls, relating to the retinues of the nobles and knights despatched from England for the conquest of Normandy, the treaties with Burgundy and Britanny, the negotiations for the marriage of the King with Katherine of France, the grants of lands and houses to faithful followers, and the like, will be found set forth at length upon the membranes of the French Rolls of this period. It has, therefore, been considered advisable to calendar the French Rolls of the reign of Henry V. so that the abstract may serve as a supplement to the calendar of the Norman Rolls.

The entries upon the French Rolls chiefly relate to the protections granted by the sovereign to those nobles, knights, and esquires who, with their respective retinues, formed the flower of the English troops engaged in the subjection of the northern provinces of France. The list of names recorded upon these rolls will be valuable to the genealogist.

With regard to the other entries, several of them throw a light upon the commercial history of the reign. The principal exports of Spain at this time were figs, raisins, wine, oil, skins, soap, and quicksilver, which were shipped to England and exchanged for our wools, then superior to those of every other country. Safe conducts for vessels trading between Spain and England are, therefore, frequently to be found on the French Rolls. The Flemings in the 15th century were the most skilful weavers in Europe, but inasmuch as they were greatly dependent upon English wool for the fine cloth they produced, a brisk trade was carried on between England and Flanders. The French Rolls record various safe-conducts granted to Flemish barques sailing from the port of Sluys to London to obtain goods for the great mart of Bruges. From these Rolls it will also be seen that the commercial intercourse between England and Portugal, and between England and Britanny, was active and friendly. No little trade was carried on with the Italian merchants. The Genoese anchored their great "carracks" in our ports laden with cloths of gold, silks, black pepper, oil, and cotton, and received in exchange English wool, which they disposed of at Bruges and thus carried on a second traffic. The Venetians and Florentines brought to England spices, sweet wines, articles de luxe, and foreign drugs, and then returned to their own ports with cargoes of English cloth, wool, and tin. Protections and safe-conducts granted to Italian merchants trading to England are a feature in the entries upon the French Rolls.

The Council of Constance was at this time engaged in putting an end to the schism then created in the Church, and several of the English bishops and clergy took part in its deliberations. Licenses to these ecclesiastics to quit England for that purpose will be found entered upon the French Rolls.

Calais was, in the 15th century, the most valued foreign possession of our Crown. Apart from its being the chief mart for the sale of English wool, it was looked upon as giving to England the undisputed command of the Straits. When in the year 1416 the Emperor Sigismund, whose name frequently appears in the French Rolls, came to England to endeavour to effect a peace between Henry V. and the King of France, he had been especially struck with the importance of Calais, and had advised Henry to value the towns of Calais and Dover as the two eyes of his maritime power.

"To the kynge thus he seyde 'My brothere,
" 'When he perceyved too townes Calys and Dovere,
" 'Of alle youre townes to chese of one and othere,
" 'To kepe the see and soon to come overe
" 'To werre oughtwardes and your regne to recovere,
" 'Kepe these too townes, Sire, and youre Magesté,
" 'As your tweyne eyne to kepe the narowe see.'"*

Frequent mention will be found in the French Rolls of the mandates of the English sovereign to the governor of Calais to inspect the strength of the fortifications of the town, to see that the storehouses were well filled with provisions, and to take precautions that the military discipline at the castle was not relaxed, and that foreigners were kept under vigilant supervision. Henry IV. had granted to the mayor and aldermen of Calais the assize of wine, ale, beer, and bread within the jurisdiction of the town, which was called la eskenage. Appointments of bailiffs of la eskenage are often to be met with in the French Rolls. The following are among the more curious of the entries relating to Calais:—

"Ordinances for the better safety of Calais; these forbid foreigners to be burgesses "of Calais or to keep taverns in the town; they also exact that all houses "in Calais be roofed with tile or slate." Westminster, July 15, 1413.

"Mandate to the Mayor and Corporation of the Staple at Calais, that all mer- "chants coming to Calais for the sale or purchase of merchandise be lodged "at the houses of the brokers of the staple and nowhere else during the next "ten years." Westminster, Nov. 23, 1413.

"Mandate to the Earl of Warwick, Captain of Calais, forbidding any soldier to "quit Calais without special leave." Westminster, Feb. 13, 1416.

After the different engagements between the English and the French, and on the surrender of the various towns in Normandy to the victorious Henry, several prisoners were captured and brought over to England. After a brief period of captivity these Frenchmen were permitted to return to their country to obtain their ransom. Hence entries of safe-conducts granted to such prisoners embarking from Southampton for France in quest of their ransom are of frequent occurrence in the French Rolls.

Among the entries of general interest the following may be considered as specimens:—

"Pardon to Wm. Michel, monk, a native of Jersey, for having quitted the island "to become a monk in the Abbey of St. Michel, Normandy, without leave." Westminster, July 23, 1414.

"License to John de Vasquez, knight, to export from England 400 lances for the "King of Portugal." Westminster, Sept. 26, 1414.

"Grant to Rich. Bokeland, of London, of the inn in Harfleur called the 'Peacock' "on account of his having assisted the King at the siege of Harfleur with two "vessels." Westminster, Dec. 28, 1415.

"License to Peter Lobato, knight, Portuguese ambassador, to export 300 lance "staves, three palfreys, and a suit of armour, for the use of the Infant Henry "warring against the infidels." Southampton, July 12, 1417.

No. 4.—Mr. Sanders' Annual Report, for 1882, on Fac-similes of Anglo-Saxon Charters, &c., photozincographed at the Ordnance Survey Office, Southampton.

Ordnance Survey Office, Southampton,
January 22nd, 1883.

Sir,

I have the honour to submit to you the following report upon the work performed at this office under my superintendence during the past year.

The perfected fac-similes for Part II. of the series of Anglo-Saxon MSS. and final revise of the accompanying letterpress left my hands on the 18th of last October, so that the publication of the volume may be looked for very shortly.

This volume was supposed to exhaust the number of Anglo-Saxon Charters remaining extant, as far as I had been able to ascertain by search and inquiry in all the cathedral libraries, and all available private muniment rooms in England—and in fact did so, up to the time of the issue of the Report of the Royal Commission on Historical Manuscripts for 1881, which contained among the long catalogue of manuscripts belonging to the Earl of Ashburnham a notice of a volume of Anglo-Saxon Charters forming the largest collection of these documents in the possession of any single owner; the next largest being those belonging to the Cathedrals of Canterbury and Exeter, and Westminster Abbey.

After my visit to the Record Office, I wrote the following letter to Lord Ashburnham :—

Ordnance Survey Office, Southampton,
March 16, 1882.

My Lord,

Some time ago the Lords of the Treasury, on the recommendation of the Master of the Rolls, sanctioned the reproduction at this office by the process of photozincography under the Director-General of the Ordnance Survey, of a series of Anglo-Saxon Charters which was to embrace all those known to exist in England.

The series commenced with the Charters belonging to Canterbury Cathedral which were lent by the Archbishop for that purpose, and these, forming the first volume, have been already published.

The second volume, now nearly completed, comprises the collections belonging to the Cathedrals of Exeter, Westminster, Wells, Worcester, and Winchester; the Marquis of Bath, the Earl of Ilchester; the Bodleian Library; Her Majesty's Record Office; Winchester College; the Museum at Taunton; and the William Salt Library at Stafford.

These are all the Anglo-Saxon Charters known to remain in England, besides the large collection in the British Museum, which is being copied by order of the Trustees, with the exception of the magnificent set in your Lordship's library.

I venture therefore to write to ask your Lordship whether, in the event of the Treasury authorising the production of a third volume, your Lordship would allow yours to appear in it. The volume to be in that case made up exclusively of those belonging to you under the name of the Ashburnham volume.

Your Lordship would confer a great boon upon the historic literature of England by doing so; as by this means we should possess fac-similes of all the Charters granted from the earliest Saxon times down to the

Conquest, in almost unbroken succession; while the absence of such an important collection, will leave a gap in the series, which will greatly detract from its value.

Should your Lordship be disposed to grant this favour, and should the Treasury authorise the necessary expenditure, a proper official request will be addressed to you by the Director-General, if you will kindly intimate your decision to me, but before addressing the Treasury on the subject, it is important to know your Lordship's view in the matter.

I must account for my own writing by saying that the superintendence of the copying of the Anglo-Saxon Charters has been entrusted to me, and that they will remain in my custody during the time they are being photographed.

I have the honour to be,
My Lord,
Your Lordship's obedient Servant,
(Signed) WILLIAM BASEVI SANDERS,
Assistant Keeper of Her Majesty's Records.

The Right Honorable
The Earl of Ashburnham,
&c. &c. &c.

In the early part of April I received a reply from his Lordship in Paris, saying that he was not indisposed to allow his volume to be copied under certain conditions that did not detract from his Lordship's liberal acquiescence. The Master of the Rolls having recommended the publication of the proposed additional volume, the Lords of the Treasury were pleased to sanction the same upon the application of Major-General Cooke through the First Commissioner of Works. General Cooke then wrote to Lord Ashburnham, and the result was the transfer of the book to my custody on the 14th of last July.

This "unrivalled collection"—as it is called in the Commissioners' Report above alluded to—comprises 43 documents, being Charters, Wills, Deeds, and Reports of Synodal transactions; one of the earliest being a Charter of King Wihtred of Kent, in which he says, that on account of his being unable to read or write—"propter ignorantiam literarum"—he has made the sign of the Holy Cross in confirmation of this grant, and has asked Archbishop Berichtwald and other worthy witnesses to subscribe their names. Among these figures, Queen Æthilburh, who might therefore be naturally assumed to have been of superior education to her Consort, were it not almost certain that King Wihtred alone openly acknowledged an ignorance that all the lay witnesses at any rate shared alike. The other grantors of Charters are Kings Offa, Eardwulf, Coenwulf, Cuthred, Beornwulf, Æthelwulf, Ælfred, Eadward the Elder, Eadmund, Eadred, Queen Eadgifu, and Kings Eadgar, Æthelred the Second, and Cnut; Archbishops Wulfred, Ceolnoth, Plegmund, and Eadsi, Abbot Wulfred, and Werenberht the King's Reve. And the wills are those of Ælfred Ealdorman, Æthelwyrd the Ætheling, Æthelstan son of Æthelred the Second; and Ælfhelm; all of which are written wholly in the Anglo-Saxon language.

Besides the MSS. themselves, the volume contains abstracts and transcripts of the originals, beautifully written and rubricated with an alphabetical list of the names of all the places mentioned in them, the whole annotated by Astle, under whose personal superintendence the volume was evidently made up. Two charters, however, have been added to the collection since his time, of which the book contains no notice, and these are not mounted like the rest,—upon separate pages—but are lying loose. The earliest of these is a Charter by Eadgar in 970 to the Monastery of Ely, with an Anglo-Saxon version, written beneath the Latin grant and supplied by the King's direction in order that the purport of the Charter may reach the ears of the vulgar "in "usitatâ sermocinatione," lest any doubt should arise among them as to its validity. This Charter is subscribed by seventy-seven witnesses, the King and Queen Ælfthryth, both archbishops, twelve bishops, eleven abbots, nine ealdormen, and forty-one thanes. It is endorsed: "This is King Eadgar's Charter of the institution of the Abbey of Ely"; and in a later hand: "and it is made in duplicate." Another endorsement of the period to which it relates, states that it had been produced as an exhibit in the legatine visitation of Cardinal Wolsey, Archbishop of York, celebrated by Doctor Rowland Lee, Archdeacon of Cornwall his Commissary General, in Exeter Cathedral on the 15th of April 1529. It has been printed in the Codex Diplomaticus, from three British Museum copies, and another is also quoted by Wanley as existing in the Cottonian Library, "litteris Saxonicis misere, per scriptorem Sax-"onicarum litterarum imperitum, corruptis." The other is a grant by Æthelred in 997, of Sandford, to Bishop Ælfwold of Crediton. This Charter is not printed in the Codex or Diplomatarium. It is a particularly fine specimen of penmanship and preservation. I can find no notice of it anywhere, and it affords another example of the way in which these early Charters have been detached from their original place of deposit and gone drifting about for centuries; the casual property of successive uninterested owners.

The cover of the volume which contains these valuable records, is a remarkable specimen of ancient needlework. I am told by a good authority of about 300 years old—although my own opinion, which is, however, of little value, would have assigned a greater age to it—made up of separate portions, each representing some actor or illustrating some phase in the history of Christ. The front cover is taken up by the crucifixion; the figure of the Saviour having a cloth of gold folded about his loins. The Cross is stepped in a double plinth, round the base of which are flowers in full bloom, with a scull and bones in the midst of them. Two angels in ample raiment of golden tissue, with yellow hair and large yellow, red, and green wings are depicted, hovering one on either side of the Christ and catching the blood that flows from the pierced side and wounded hands in goblets, of which the angel on the right hand bears one in each hand, and that on the left only one in its right hand. The wound inflicted by the Roman soldier Longinus his spear, is represented as being in the right side. Over the figure hovers the Dove and the superscription "I. N. R. I." appears at the head of the Cross. Four figures of Saints fill the four spaces between the cross beams. The first, a female clad in a long robe of gold with a cowl drawn over the head, and an under robe striped vertically red, white, and blue, stands with clasped hands. The second, a male in a golden wrapper wound round the body, with the end flung over the left shoulder and an under garment of yellow and green stripes, bears in his left hand a goblet, perhaps containing the chrism, and extends the first two fingers, as in the act of benediction or consecration. The third, also a male, wears a short mantle of gold over a tunic of red and brown stripes, and holds a long spear or staff upright in his right hand. Each of these three figures has an aureola round the head. The fourth, which has no aureola, is either that of a woman or a youth clothed in a golden mantle fastened close round the neck, and floating open over a parti-coloured robe. It bears a scroll in the left hand and extends the right arm and hand in the attitude of preaching. The back ground to all four is one of gold thread and flowered silk, and each is represented, as it were, in a niche.

On the back cover are depicted six figures. The first, a King, robed in gold and ermine over parti-coloured vestments, belted with a girdle of gold, and wearing a heavy turban, carries a golden sceptre in his left hand. The second, a female, wears a tunic of yellow and green, with a wrapper of gold thrown over the left shoulder and a curious red head-dress. The right hand has the fore finger extended; the left carries what would seem to be intended for a palm branch. The third, a male, has the same head-dress and a robe of gold, lined with green, over a garment of buff and red. He bears a blue book in his left hand, and his right rests upon what may have been the hilt of a sword with its point in the ground; but the object, whatever it may have been, has become detached from the ground work, and is consequently only a matter of conjecture. The three concluding male figures appear to belong to a different class, and not like the preceding to represent saints. The first with a turban of red, green, and white, wears a short golden mantle over a dress of blue and red, with a broad border of ermine round the foot of the skirt, and a yellow belt. The second wears a turban of rose and grey, and a golden robe over one of red and blue. The left hand is uplifted with extended fingers, and the right carries, over the shoulder, a staff with a bundle in five pear-shaped divisions hanging at its end. The last figure is that of a male: a crown with yellow frontlet on his head, an ermine tippet, and breast-plate of gold, and a golden robe lined with patterned red over a blue tunic, with a narrow red vertical stripe confined round the waist by a yellow girdle. Both hands are extended forward. From the earnest expression of wonder and devotion conveyed in the attitude and countenance of each of these three last figures, they may, perhaps, represent the Magi worshipping the Child at Bethlehem.

The whole of the cover to the book is worked by the hand in gold thread and coloured silk, the tints of which have been here and there overlaid with pigment. It is probably composed of portions of an ancient cope.

A portion of the charters preserved in the volume has been photographed, and as much progress made as the exceptional duration of gloomy weather and the requirements of the survey have permitted. The present is the seventeenth volume of the series of fac-similes of Ancient National Manuscripts, which has been published by the Government upon the recommendation of the Master of the Rolls under my superintendence, and during the 21 years that have elapsed since the first of the set—"Doomsday Book"—was commenced I do not remember so unbroken a succession of dark days or a continuance of atmospheric conditions so unfavourable to a process which cannot be satisfactorily carried out except in the open air and under the direct actinic influence of bright sunlight. The records of the Meteorological Department of this Office return only 110·8 hours of sunshine available for photography, that is, between the hours of 9 and 1, and exclusive of Sundays, during the last three months of the year 1882, giving an average of rather less than one hour and a half for each day, while for the concluding week, out of the fifty-six hours and three-quarters that the sun was above the horizon, he was not visible for one minute.

The charters have been mounted edgewise on the pages of the volume by Astle himself with cement. Unlike those preserved in the Canterbury volume, they cannot be detached, so that more than ordinary care is necessary in preparing them for copying, as they cannot be set up before the camera with the same readiness or facility as separate documents can singly. All of them are in good condition, many afford fine specimens of hand-writing and amusing examples of a Saxon scribe's flounderings among the difficulties of transcription in an unknown tongue, and some of them are of great size and length. The whole form a worthy addition to those already published, and I reserve for my next report a full relation of the contents and history of each.

I have the honour to be,
Sir,
Your obedient Servant,

Assistant Keeper of Her Majesty's Records.

No. 5.—Mr. Rawdon Brown's Report on his Operations at Venice, to 31st December 1882.

Casa della Vida, Venice,
December 30th, 1882.

My Lord,

Before addressing myself to the official duty of submitting to your Lordship, the report of the proceedings of the editorship of the Venetian Calendar up to the present date, I must respectfully request your Lordship to accept my grateful thanks for the great indulgence which you showed towards me in the month of November 1881, when, in consideration of the severe accident which had befallen me during the previous summer, you were pleased to excuse the presentation of my official report for 1880–1881, and to authorise the Deputy Keeper of the Records to accept in substitution a verbal communication made to him on my behalf by my friend, the Right Hon. Mr. Cavendish Bentinck.

I beg to assure your Lordship that this mark of your favour has been fully appreciated by myself, and I desire further to express my earnest hope that my services in the cause of English history may still continue to merit your Lordship's approbation.

According to the information which I have received from the Record Office, the third part of Vol. VI. of the Venetian Calendar will shortly be issued. The first part of this volume was printed during the year 1877, containing 718 pages and 668 entries, the latter dating from the 2nd of January 1555 to the 19th of October 1556. These entries are derived from the State Archives of Venice, and from the collection of State Papers preserved in the Library of St. Mark, in Venice, and comprise—

1st. Despatches addressed to the Senate, the Venetian Ambassador accredited to the Courts of England, Spain (including Brussels), France, and Rome.

2ndly. Original letters written by Cardinal Pole.

3rdly. Certain Public Acts of the Senate and College of the Republic of Venice which have reference to England and English affairs.

The second part of the sixth volume was issued from the press during the year 1881. This part contains 639 pages (numbered from 720–1,359) and 403 historical documents, dating from the 20th October 1556 to the 31st October 1557. These documents were also derived from the same sources as the documents in the first part of Vol. VI., and the entry numbered 884 (pages 1043–85) gives under date 13th May, the interesting report upon England made to the Venetian Senate by the Ambassador in England, the nobleman Giovanni Michiel.

The documents which I propose to print in the Third Part of Vol. VI. consist of 224 entries, dating from November 4th, 1557, to the 29th December 1558, and these, I am advised, will occupy about 224 pages. This part will be further extended by appendix, containing a considerable number of valuable historical documents of the 14th, 15th, and 16th centuries, now preserved respectively in the State Archives of Venice, Modena, and Mantua, and the entire volume will conclude with a general index to all the three parts.

In explanation of the length to which I have been compelled to extend this appendix, I have to acquaint your Lordship that while the Second Part of Vol. VI. was in the printer's hands, I obtained access to important papers, which had only then been lately discovered in the State Archives of Venice, Modena, and Mantua, and the circumstances of the case having thus precluded their insertion in the proper place, I have taken upon myself the responsibility of printing them in the form in which they will now be made public.

The preparation of materials for a seventh volume of the Venetian Series has been attended with considerable difficulty, owing to the exceptional circumstances of the period to which this volume will relate; and I have consequently been compelled to adopt a system of calendaring which differs from my previous work, but which I trust your Lordship will sanction when explained by the following remarks.

At the date of the death of Queen Mary (November 17th, 1558) no Venetian Ambassador was resident at her court; the last Ambassador, Michiel Surian, having been recalled a short time previously for political reasons to which it is unnecessary for me now to refer.

The anti-papal tendencies displayed by Queen Elizabeth soon after her accession became so strongly developed, that the fear of incurring the hostility of the Pope prevented the Republic from any immediate renewal of diplomatic relations with her. And this same cause subsequently so influenced Venetian foreign policy, that, although from 1559 to 1603, 10 distinct motions were made in the Senate for an Embassy to England, yet no vote was taken upon the question until December 1603, when a substantive motion appointing a secretary as agent to England was carried, and G. C. Scaramelli was elected to undertake the mission.

Scaramelli's despatches date from the year 1603, and form the commencement of a series of diplomatic correspondence which was continued without interruption until the fall of the Republic in 1797.

While political exigency, under these circumstances, prevented the transmission of direct notices of England's affairs to Venice, the blank thus created is amply supplied by information derived from the Venetian Ambassadors accredited to other courts of Europe.

Their correspondence continually refers to English affairs, and the facts brought to light therein, coming as they do from truthful and independent sources, are to my mind quite as valuable to the historian as any communications which might have been made to the Senate from England itself.

In support of this opinion I venture to refer your Lordship to the despatches written by the nobleman, Antonio Tiepolo, who was Ambassador in Rome during the Pontificate of Gregory the 13th, and who repeatedly mentions the strong aversion of the Pope to any diplomatic representation of Venice at the Court of Elizabeth. On the 30th August 1578, Tiepolo writes: "According to the judgment of his Holi" ness it would be a monstrous evil that the Signory should send an " ambassador to England, and thus give greater reputation to a wicked
" woman. That it was unbecoming for so Catholic a Republic to " accredit an ambassador to a female heretic, whose only object was to " sow scandals and keep them alive throughout all Christendom.

"That the Signory had no favour to seek from her. No frontier
" question to settle, nor any other matter of urgent necessity, so that
" the Signory would be in a false position and ill-advised if they did
" her this honour."

Again, on the 8th of November in the same year, the Pope in another conversation with the Ambassador Tiepolo, returned to the subject and said, "Is it true that so Christian a Republic and the chief Prince of

" Italy can desire an alliance with such a wicked and heretical woman " as she (Elizabeth) is? We are unable to conceive that the Signory " should be under any necessity to do this thing, and especially at a " time when it is our common duty to curtail and not to augment the " reputation of a woman, who, to speak plainly, is the foundation of all " the misfortunes of Flanders, seeing that by her means those States have " hitherto resisted, and will be able still longer to resist, the Catholic " King! A state of things which is not only disastrous to those " Provinces, but which may lead to grave consequences in Italy itself."

I can assure your Lordship that the extracts which I have quoted above are only fair examples of the information which may be obtained from the despatches of Venetian Ambassadors resident in Rome, Spain, Brussels, and France, during the 44 years when Venice was unrepresented at the Court of Queen Elizabeth. I have therefore read and studied these documents and have translated and calendared all those portions which, in my judgment, were relevant to the history of England.

Having thus placed before your Lordship a summary of my labours during the last two years, and my plan of action for the future, I now humbly take my leave. The advanced age at which I have arrived has of necessity impaired both my energy and my faculties, but my desire to serve the Record Office, and its able and indulgent chief, is still as strong as ever. To contribute, however imperfectly, to the illustration of the history of my country has been the sole object of my life; and if your Lordship should think fit to recommend me to the Treasury for further employment as editor of the Venetian Calendar, I cherish the hope that even in my case the truth of the proverb, " Where there is a will there is a way," may be realised.

I have the honour to be,
Your Lordship's obliged and faithful servant,
(Signed) RAWDON BROWN.

No. 7.—Report by Mr. Bliss to the Master of the Rolls for the year ending December, 1882.

My Lord, Rome, December 24th, 1882.

I have the honour to inform your Lordship that, during the past six months, seven parcels of transcripts have been sent to the Public Record Office, making a total during the past year of seventeen parcels containing five hundred and fifty transcripts and two thousand three hundred abstracts of documents in the Vatican Archives and Archivio di Stato.

The transcripts are chiefly from the French and German Nunciatures, 1527 to 1529, 1536, 1553, 1570 to 1603. Also many Rossetti papers of 1642–3, and some miscellaneous papers 1590–1604. Some letters of Gambara, 1526–7, have also been sent.

The abstracts of documents are from the Regesta of Clement IV., Urban IV., Gregory X., John XXI., Nicolas III., Martin IV., Honorius IV., Nicolas IV., Boniface VIII., Benedict XI., Clement V., and John XXII. Also from the collections of Eugenius IV., Pius II., Paul II., and Sixtus IV.

Amongst this exceptionally large number of papers that I have been enabled to send from Rome this year, the letters of Gambara, Salviati, and Rossetti are of special interest.

The documents from the Regesta illustrate not only the political and ecclesiastical relations of England with Rome, but also contain many items relating to families and places in England that will be useful to writers of local histories, editors of chronicles, and compilers of genealogies. In accordance with particular directions from the late Sir T. Duffus Hardy these documents are not copied in full, but copies of such as may be needed can be made at any time. The documents are of a formal character, and, as they stand in the volumes of the Regesta, are in many cases little more than a skeleton of the original letter sent to the person interested. They contain the names of beneficed clergy, their preferments, benefices, and dignities, marriage dispensations, privileges, indulgences, and a variety of minor ecclesiastical matters in every diocese in England, Scotland, and Ireland.

Until the popes went to Avignon, the Regesta were kept less accurately and systematically than during their residence there. It may also be said that to their being at Avignon is due the preservation of many volumes that would not have escaped destruction in Rome during the successive ravages it has undergone.

I have the honour to be,
My Lord,
Your Lordship's obedient humble servant,
(Signed) William H. Bliss.
